

LEGISLATURE FINISHES JOB

Insull May Have to Spend Rest of Life at Sea

Only Refuge for Man Without a
Country Is a Ship

Chicago Utilities Magnate
Must Leave Greece Next
Wednesday

NOWHERE TO TURN
All the Major Powers
Have Extradition Treaties
With U. S. A.

ATHENS, Greece — (P) — Samuel Insull may have to spend the rest of his life at sea.

The former Chicago utilities operator, now 74, is the 20th century Man Without a Country. The rest of his life may be spent sailing the seven seas on ships which fly the Greek flag.

No other alternative seemed likely Thursday, for the Ministry of the Interior is preparing to give the fugitive from the United States permission to leave Greece, but no other nation has offered him a haven.

Must Leave Wednesday
Insull is required to get out of Greece by January 31—next Wednesday.

The United States failed to extradite Insull in two attempts, owing to the lack of a suitable extradition treaty between that nation and Greece.

But diplomatic and commercial pressure was seen in the later reversal of the Greek position. While refusing to recognize America's extradition demand, Greece also refused to give Insull a refugee's status.

"Too Much Publicity"
The former utilities magnate once said that if kicked out of Greece he would go to his native England, but later retracted this, declaring there had been "too much publicity."

The United States has an extradition treaty with Great Britain and all other world powers, and steps would be taken to arrest Insull if he landed in any important country.

Newspapers Are
Money Textbooks

Even Last Fall's Textbooks
Are Hopelessly
Out of Date

NEW YORK.—(P)—The rapidly changing economic picture has brought the virtual replacement of textbooks by daily newspapers in the teaching of banking and investment, Prof. Raymond Rodgers of the New York University School of Commerce said Wednesday.

"Textbooks on banking and investment, written as recently as last September, are now hopelessly out of date," he said. "Newspapers have become absolutely essential to our students and teachers."

"We insist that our finance students read the papers seven days a week as home work. With the fast-breaking monetary developments of the present time, the loss of one day's reading may mean the lack of understanding of important subsequent developments."

"Professors can't dig lectures out of barrels these days."

New Letter Sent in Kidnaping Case

Bremer's Captors Demand
Protection Against Officers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Action in the Edward G. Bremer kidnaping case shifted from St. Paul to this city Wednesday with the receipt by Postmaster W. C. Robertson, of Minneapolis, of a new letter from the millionaires' bank captors. It demanded that the family give fresh assurance there would be no double-cross in the payoff negotiations and also said the presence of federal agents had deterred the snatchers from further contacting efforts.

The letter, addressed to Robertson, for transmission to Adolph Bremer, the victim's father, and close friend of President Roosevelt, who has had the $200,000 ransom money ready for delivery for more than a week. Robertson telephoned Warren E. Pratt, chief of the St. Paul bureau of the Department of Justice, who turned the letter over to Bremer. The latter conferred with business associates, and refused to make a statement. It is reported an advertisement in code will appear in a Minneapolis newspaper, in answer to the letter.

'Honor' Is Avenged in French Bank Scandal

PARIS, France.—(P)—Four pistol shots echoed through the empty football stadium in Parc des Princes, on the outskirts of Paris at dawn Friday in the first duel over the Stavisky affair.

Deputy Andre Hesse and John Beineix, lawyer, fought because of accusations in the Bayonne Municipal Pawnshop (bank) scandal.

Each fired two shots without result, before police arrived and put the principals and their seconds to rout.

Hesse besides being a deputy in the French parliament was also attorney for the late Serge Stavisky, founder of the ill-fated bank.

Beineix told him after the scandal broke that he ought to be "ashamed to appear in lawyer's cloth," and Hesse challenged him to a duel.

Hesse has another challenge outstanding, the result of startling revelations concerning the high political connections of the late Stavisky, who dropping his police-record name for another, "Alexandre," founded an institution which led French investors into a 40-million-dollar loss.

The Stavisky scandal fanned the flames of monarchist revolt and caused the republic to station troops in front of the parliament house. Premier Chautemps, however, was given a vote of confidence by the parliament after promising removal of officials connected with Stavisky affair.

True, it took them four weeks, while the irascible private citizen claims he could have done it in four days—but for a happy outcome there are no complaints.

This is an ancient history reaching back to the old road improvement district debts of 1919, and to compress 15 years of state indebtedness into four weeks is no small accomplishment.

The hard words being hurled at the legislators in the fourth week were inspired not by their choice of proceedings but by doubt as to their actual intention.

A resolution by the house Thursday recognized this criticism and gave a fair answer:

The difficulties faced by the legislature in working out the refunding problem were never fully understood by the public, and at no time during the session has there been any opposition to refunding nor has the legislature at any time considered repudiation of the highway debts.

But the fact remains that two previous sessions had prepared a "refund" bill which failed to recede—and on the fourth week of this latest session there was reason for the public to fear that refunding would again be defeated, whether deliberately or not being unimportant.

Administration leaders, assured of the bill's passage in a form otherwise acceptable to the White House, at once prepared a stand off the out-right inflationists, counting upon Republican conservative assistance.

There was a vigorous assault upon the measure by Senator Glass of Virginia, a Democratic authority on banking and currency legislation; a combined endorsement and attack from Senator Walcott, Republican, Connecticut, and a determined defense by Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader. Fletcher of Florida, chairman of the Banking Committee, Barkley of Kentucky, a committee member, and Connally of Texas.

The measure as received from the White House proposed that the Treasury be given title to gold of the Federal Reserve banks, that the dollar be revalued at 50 to 60 per cent of its present legal gold equivalent,

And for the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

But there was Sophie, anyway; and a man, supposed to be her husband whom she called Jupp. They had sold their cafe in another town, they said, and had come here to start another one. The large infantry barracks nearby should provide a gay and generous clientele. Especially, said Sophie with a heavy wink, if the place were equipped with pretty barmaids.

Wins Soldiers' Friendship
When they bought a bar right on the town's public square it became apparent that Sophie and Jupp were not lacking in brains. Brazenly they named the place the Cafes des Sports, and brought in a number of fetching waitresses.

In no time at all word of the establishment had gone around the barracks and over to nearby Coume, where many men, mostly civilians, were at work on the mysterious new fortifications.

Soon the lonely male patrons of the cafe were agreeing that the hosts were certainly a precious pair, all right. A silent, imperturbable fellow, Jupp—but how delightfully tolerant of the little indiscretions of his barmaids! And Sophie, who now was known as "La Belle Sophie" and "Fat Sophie"—there was a woman with a heart of gold. Did she not make jokes that had the soldiers and the workmen practically in stitches? And was she ever known to be impatient with a fellow who was heavily in her debt?

Strikes for the Big Prize
Jupp proved to be all too lenient with his barmaids, for in time he was waited upon by an agent who told him to get out of the country, and at once. He obeyed, but Sophie Drost remained. Alone now, she sought companionship among her patrons, and seemed to find most interesting some

(Continued on page three)

And the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

But there was Sophie, anyway; and a man, supposed to be her husband whom she called Jupp. They had sold their cafe in another town, they said, and had come here to start another one. The large infantry barracks nearby should provide a gay and generous clientele. Especially, said Sophie with a heavy wink, if the place were equipped with pretty barmaids.

Wins Soldiers' Friendship
When they bought a bar right on the town's public square it became apparent that Sophie and Jupp were not lacking in brains. Brazenly they named the place the Cafes des Sports, and brought in a number of fetching waitresses.

In no time at all word of the establishment had gone around the barracks and over to nearby Coume, where many men, mostly civilians, were at work on the mysterious new fortifications.

Soon the lonely male patrons of the cafe were agreeing that the hosts were certainly a precious pair, all right. A silent, imperturbable fellow, Jupp—

but how delightfully tolerant of the little indiscretions of his barmaids! And Sophie, who now was known as "La Belle Sophie" and "Fat Sophie"—there was a woman with a heart of gold. Did she not make jokes that had the soldiers and the workmen practically in stitches? And was she ever known to be impatient with a fellow who was heavily in her debt?

Strikes for the Big Prize
Jupp proved to be all too lenient with his barmaids, for in time he was waited upon by an agent who told him to get out of the country, and at once. He obeyed, but Sophie Drost remained. Alone now, she sought companionship among her patrons, and seemed to find most interesting some

Inflationists Fail of Majority, But Carry on Battle

Republicans Shout Robbery, Yet Gold Bill Is Certain to Pass

WEST LOSING OUT
Silver and Paper Money Advocates Virtually Concede Defeat

WASHINGTON.—(P)—While Republicans shouted "robbery" at the administration's money bill in the senate Thursday the independents of both parties virtually decided to put their silver and mandatory inflation amendments to a test vote although admitting their strength was far from a majority.

The cry of "robbery" came from Hastings, of Delaware, and the Democratic leaders bided their time for a vote on the administration legislation, confident of success when the roll is called.

Boah said there were insufficient votes for the independent proposals, but they would be offered anyway.

Must Curb Spending
BALTIMORE, Md.—(P)—Henry Harman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, told a meeting here Thursday:

"We may well look with apprehension to the future if those now receiving aid from the government come to regard this assistance as permanent rather than an emergency program to stimulate private industry."

Favors Compulsory Control
WASHINGTON.—(P)—After a talk with President Roosevelt, Senator Bankhead of Alabama announced Thursday he would press for a bill to limit the cotton crop to 9 million bales through compulsory control for 1934, at this session.

Roosevelt Looks to G. O. P.
WASHINGTON.—(P)—Emerging from a day of scathing denunciation in which senate conservatives of both parties joined, the Roosevelt monetary bill Wednesday night found itself threatened with the addition of a provision, backed by Western independents, to make some expansion of the currency a certainty.

Administration leaders, assured of the bill's passage in a form otherwise acceptable to the White House, at once prepared a stand off the out-right inflationists, counting upon Republican conservative assistance.

There was a vigorous assault upon the measure by Senator Glass of Virginia, a Democratic authority on banking and currency legislation; a combined endorsement and attack from Senator Walcott, Republican, Connecticut, and a determined defense by Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader. Fletcher of Florida, chairman of the Banking Committee, Barkley of Kentucky, a committee member, and Connally of Texas.

The measure as received from the White House proposed that the Treasury be given title to gold of the Federal Reserve banks, that the dollar be revalued at 50 to 60 per cent of its present legal gold equivalent,

And for the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

But there was Sophie, anyway; and a man, supposed to be her husband whom she called Jupp. They had sold their cafe in another town, they said, and had come here to start another one. The large infantry barracks nearby should provide a gay and generous clientele. Especially, said Sophie with a heavy wink, if the place were equipped with pretty barmaids.

Wins Soldiers' Friendship
When they bought a bar right on the town's public square it became apparent that Sophie and Jupp were not lacking in brains. Brazenly they named the place the Cafes des Sports, and brought in a number of fetching waitresses.

In no time at all word of the establishment had gone around the barracks and over to nearby Coume, where many men, mostly civilians, were at work on the mysterious new fortifications.

Soon the lonely male patrons of the cafe were agreeing that the hosts were certainly a precious pair, all right. A silent, imperturbable fellow, Jupp—

but how delightfully tolerant of the little indiscretions of his barmaids! And Sophie, who now was known as "La Belle Sophie" and "Fat Sophie"—there was a woman with a heart of gold. Did she not make jokes that had the soldiers and the workmen practically in stitches? And was she ever known to be impatient with a fellow who was heavily in her debt?

Strikes for the Big Prize
Jupp proved to be all too lenient with his barmaids, for in time he was waited upon by an agent who told him to get out of the country, and at once. He obeyed, but Sophie Drost remained. Alone now, she sought companionship among her patrons, and seemed to find most interesting some

(Continued on page three)

And the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

But there was Sophie, anyway; and a man, supposed to be her husband whom she called Jupp. They had sold their cafe in another town, they said, and had come here to start another one. The large infantry barracks nearby should provide a gay and generous clientele. Especially, said Sophie with a heavy wink, if the place were equipped with pretty barmaids.

Wins Soldiers' Friendship
When they bought a bar right on the town's public square it became apparent that Sophie and Jupp were not lacking in brains. Brazenly they named the place the Cafes des Sports, and brought in a number of fetching waitresses.

In no time at all word of the establishment had gone around the barracks and over to nearby Coume, where many men, mostly civilians, were at work on the mysterious new fortifications.

Soon the lonely male patrons of the cafe were agreeing that the hosts were certainly a precious pair, all right. A silent, imperturbable fellow, Jupp—

but how delightfully tolerant of the little indiscretions of his barmaids! And Sophie, who now was known as "La Belle Sophie" and "Fat Sophie"—there was a woman with a heart of gold. Did she not make jokes that had the soldiers and the workmen practically in stitches? And was she ever known to be impatient with a fellow who was heavily in her debt?

Strikes for the Big Prize
Jupp proved to be all too lenient with his barmaids, for in time he was waited upon by an agent who told him to get out of the country, and at once. He obeyed, but Sophie Drost remained. Alone now, she sought companionship among her patrons, and seemed to find most interesting some

(Continued on page three)

And the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

But there was Sophie, anyway; and a man, supposed to be her husband whom she called Jupp. They had sold their cafe in another town, they said, and had come here to start another one. The large infantry barracks nearby should provide a gay and generous clientele. Especially, said Sophie with a heavy wink, if the place were equipped with pretty barmaids.

Rudy's Foe

In his attempt to fight the separate maintenance action of his wife, Fay Webb, Rudy Wallace released phonograph transcripts of purported telephone conversations between his wife and Gary Leon (above), adagio dancer. Miss Webb vows she'll fight this charge to the last ditch.

Rev. Sykes, Former Local Pastor, Dies

Noted Episcopalian Succumbs Wednesday at Corpus Christi

Word was received here Thursday of the death of the Rev. J. W. Sykes, father of Mrs. D. M. Finley of this city. The Rev. Mr. Sykes died Wednesday night at his home in Corpus Christi, Texas.

He had been rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, one of the oldest churches in Corpus Christi, for the past 24 years. He formerly was rector of St. Marks Episcopal church here.

Responding to a telegram telling of his grave condition, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Finley and Miss Lucy Boyd of this city left Wednesday—too late to reach his bedside before he died.

Born in Virginia, he was educated at Washington and Lee university, from which institution he received his degree in law. After practicing for awhile he gave up his law career, and entered the ministry, later being graduated from the Virginia Theological seminary.

He has held important positions in the Episcopal church. An outstanding preacher and a student of unusual ability, he held the position of Archdeacon of Maryland, Dean of Pittsburgh, and Dean of the Cathedral of Kansas.

During the World War he served the government as a special speaker, rendering valuable service to his country.

Surviving are his widow, and two daughters, Mrs. D. M. Finley of this city, and Mrs. Eleanor Griffin of Texas. Nothing could be learned Thursday of funeral arrangements.

The 17th president of the United States, Andrew Johnson, never at St. Andrew.

Murder Charged Against 3 Miners in Negro Lynching

Kentucky Mob Hangs Black After Beaten Miner Dies

SUSPECTS DENY IT
Three Under Arrest Refute Officers During Investigation

HAZARD, Ky.—(P)—Three men were arrested on murder warrants and another held for questioning Thursday as Perry county officials pressed an investigation of the lynching of Rex Scott, negro, Wednesday night.

The warrants followed an all-night questioning which began shortly after the 20-year-old negro slayer was forcibly taken from jail by a masked mob which hurried to a graveyard in nearby Scott county where he was hanged to a tree and the body riddled with bullets.

The men arrested on the murder warrants are:

Pete Carroll, 38; Lee Gibson, 37, and Andy Workman, 30, all employed at a coal camp near here.

They denied participation in the lynching.

The negro Scott, a former convict, was alleged to have fatally beaten Alex Johnson, coal camp employee, who died shortly before the lynching.

Angry Miners Lynch Him
HAZARD, Ky.—(P)—Rex Scott, 20, negro, was hanged to a beech tree in the Cornet Hill graveyard in Knott county Wednesday night about an hour after he was removed forcibly from the Perry county jail here by 30 or 40 masked leaders of an armed mob of approximately 300 men.

The body was found by members of a posse led by Sheriff Filmore McIntosh, who reached the scene in time to see members of the mob scatter and run to nearby mining camps. There were approximately 40 bullet wounds in the body.

Scott was accused of slugging Alex Johnson, a miner, on a street here Saturday night. Johnson is in a critical condition in a hospital, never having regained consciousness, and attendants said he had slight chance to survive.

Deputy Jailer W. C. Knuckles was standing across the street from the jail here when, he said, armed and masked men began swarming around the jail.

Sheriff McIntosh organized a posse of approximately 50 to pursue the mob. Circuit Judge Sam Ward and Commonwealth's Attorney J. J. A. Smith accompanied the officers. As they crossed the line into the adjoining county of Knott, they noticed a crowd of several hundred men shouting and firing pistols, shotguns and other weapons. The crowd scattered, but three stragglers were arrested and ordered brought to Hazard for questioning.

The long distance swimmer's idea of covering himself with grease is an old one; ducks have done it for thousands of years.

She Smiles

It was just a little personal triumph that pajama-clad Mary McCormick, the concert and opera singer, and estranged wife of Serge Mdivani, was smiling about when this picture was taken in the cabin of the Ile de France before she sailed from New York to fill an engagement in London. A little while before process servers came aboard with an order restraining her from breaking a contract in a Florida cabaret. But Mary fooled 'em. She had a guarded stateroom door and a secret password!

Reach Agreement
LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—Reaching a quick agreement on the five requirements to the senate highway debt refunding bill the joint conference committee agreed Thursday, as follows:

1. To recommend that the house recede from three of them.

2. That the senate concur in the two others.

Conference Is Held
LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The highway refunding bill was sent to a joint conference between the two chambers adopted the house proposal for such a committee Thursday to compose the differences between the two chambers over controversial amendments which were added by the house.

The committee is composed of Senators Johnson, Ashley and Evans; and Representatives Dawson, Hardin, McCollum of Monroe county, Huie and Willson.

Conference Authorized
LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The house proposed to the senate Thursday that a joint conference committee of five representatives and three senators be formed to iron out differences between the two houses over amendments to the highway refunding bill.

The house adopted a resolution by Williams, of Woodruff county, stating that the difficulties faced by the legislature in working out the refunding problem were never fully understood by the public and at no time during the session has there been any opposition to refunding nor has the legislature at any time considered repudiation of the highway debt.

Conference Likely
LITTLE ROCK.—With two branches of the General Assembly more or less at loggerheads over the state highway indebtedness refunding bill, originating in the senate and passed by the house after adoption of 12 amendments, six of which the senate refused to concur in, indications Wednesday night were that it will be necessary to appoint a conference committee to iron out the differences between the two houses before a refunding measure can be passed.

The bill was returned to the house Wednesday afternoon with the six

(Continued on page five)

House Must Back Up on 3; Senate 2
Conference Report Presented Both Houses at 2 P. M. Thursday

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The recommendations to be submitted to each house when the legislature reconvenes at 2 p. m. Thursday are:

1. That the house recede from the amendment excepting farm and forest trailers from the license increases.

2. That the house recede from the amendment relating to "black gasoline."

3. That the house recede from the amendment permitting Lee county to apply to the county "turnback" on bridge indebtedness.

4. That the senate concur in an amendment requiring trucks and busses using Arkansas highways to pay the Arkansas gasoline tax rate in border cities, but permitting passenger cars to continue paying the rate in effect in the adjoining state.

"Jupp" Drost

The Case of LA BELLE SOPHIE and "NO. 24"

Cafe Near French Forts Proved Den of Spies

La Belle Sophie was the cross-roads Mata Hari and "No. 24" was the new-type French machine gun which gave Europe one of its most dramatic espionage cases of recent years. The story is told below in the fourth of six articles about modern spy cases which have been written for this newspaper.

By MORRIS GILBERT
NEA Service Staff Writer

The ink was scarcely dry on the Treaty of Versailles before French experts were bent low over maps of the new German frontier, planning fortifications which better could withstand the buffeting of modern warfare. And no sooner had word of an extensive new defense scheme reached the ears of certain other powers than espionage organizations went into action. Those plans had to be obtained.

First, though, there was a long wait while French authorities made up their own minds as to what sort of fortifications were to be built. Meanwhile master spies plotted the elaborate devices to be employed—a beautiful woman to win the confidence of this or that French officer; a simple appearing maid to find employment in a chateau where officials might be quartered; dozens of men to get work in factories where materials would be manufactured; secret agents to get jobs on the railroads; harp-like looking peasants to find labor in the fields where they could observe activities; craftsmen, such as masons and mechanics to help actually to build the fortifications.

And for the town of St. Avold, near the mandated and still disputed Saar Basin, a man and woman would be found to start an inn or cafe.

So Sophie Drost appeared in St. Avold in 1928. Scanning her ready laugh and coarse humor, no one could have guessed that she might become a "second Mata Hari." Certainly she had none of the exotic qualities of that glamorous, half-caste dancer who fell in defiant silence before a firing squad during the war.

La Belle Sophie

Markets Hope Cotton Exchange

New York Cotton
Open High Low Close
March 11.05 11.19 10.97 11.11-12
May 11.19 11.27 11.11 11.25

No change from previous close.

New Orleans Cotton
March 11.05 11.12 10.94 11.11
May 11.20 11.27 11.07 11.25-26
March up 2 points from previous close.

Chicago Grain
Wheat—May 90 1/4 90 3/4 89 3/4 89-88 1/2
Corn —May 52 1/2 52 3/4 51 3/4 51 1/2
Oats —May 37 1/2 38 36 36 3/4

Closing Stock Quotations
American Can 101 1/2
American Smelter 44 1/2
Am. Tel. & Tel. 118
Anaconda 58
Chrysler 56
General Motors 39 1/2
Missouri Pacific 17 1/2
Society Vacuum 17 1/2
U. S. Steel 55 1/2
Standard Oil, N. J. 47 1/2

(Continued on page three)

SOCIETY

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

Needlepoint

The word itself is beautiful. With something silver in its sound. And in its syllables the tones Of rich dark color may be found. And something permanent is heard Within this lovely singing word. The aristocrat of needlework! An oblong or a square— One sees a woman's fingers move, A silver needle flashing there— The long years turning page on page, While it grows lovelier with age. —Grace Nell Crowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brewster and their guest, Miss Fanny Bobbitt of Bardonia, Ky., and Mrs. W. R. Anderson spent Thursday in Hot Springs.

The Friday Music club will hold their regular bi-weekly meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. S. Richards on South Elm street with Mrs. George Ware as joint hostesses and Mrs. R. M. LaGrone as guide through Vienna, Austria. Roll Call responses, an Austrian composer. The Choral club will meet promptly at 2 o'clock followed by the study at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. J. W. Beck, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. McNeill and Mr. McNeill for the past two days will leave Friday for her home in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Moore, Mrs. George Sandefur and Mrs. J. F. Gorin were Thursday visitors in Texarkana.

Miss Louise Knobel, who has been at the home of Mrs. George Robison for the past eighteen months, is now domiciled in the home of Mrs. George Spraggins 222 North Louisiana street.

The Edith Thompson Sunday School class party of the First Methodist church, which was to have been on Friday night has been postponed. Date to be announced later.

Mrs. Gus Fulk of Little Rock is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gus Bernier and Mr. Bernier at the New Capital hotel.

A very delightful party of the mid-winter season was given by Mrs. E. I. Rephan and Mrs. Herbert Cresson at the home of the former on West Sixth street. Seasonal flowers adorned the rooms where eight tables were arranged for bridge. Favors went to Mrs. Comer Boyett, Mrs. Dewey Hendrix and Mrs. R. B. Stanford. Following the game, a most tempting salad course was served with coffee.

Mrs. Carroll Cathoun and little son, Carroll, Jr., who have been guests of Mrs. Barger Jones have returned to their home in Prescott.

Miss Louise Shufner of Texarkana, was a Wednesday guest of Miss Elaine Reynolds.

Mrs. J. M. Ligon of Conway will arrive Friday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. James R. Henry and Mr. Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bates of Saratoga announce the marriage of their daughter, Carrie Mae, to E. W. Martin of Washington. The wedding took place in Mineral Springs on Monday, January 1, with Rev. Robinson of the Methodist church reading the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will leave

Head Colds

Put Mentholum in the nostrils to relieve congestion and clear the breathing passages.

MENTHOLATUM

SAENGER

—NOW—

She craved romance but ran away from love!

FREDRIC MARCH MIRIAM HOPKINS GEORGE RAFT

"All of Me"

—SHORTS—
Cartoon "The King Cole"
News
Screen Souvenirs

Queen Garbo!

Here is just an enticing taste of what you will get when you see the glamorous Greta Garbo in her new film, "Queen Christina." She doesn't need much acting to portray the regal splendor and power of that magnificent queen of Sweden, does she?

soon for their new home in New Orleans, La.

Mrs. T. J. Reynolds had as her guests Wednesday Mrs. D. A. Sholler, Mrs. R. A. Dempsey, Mrs. R. B. Bates, Mrs. A. L. Willis and Miss Irma Drew Shofner, all of Texarkana.

Dr. J. L. Cannon of Prescott was a visitor to Hope Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne England have moved to their new residence, 621 North Elm.

Blevins

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reynolds and children, Anna Dell, Mary Bell and Joe Horton, Mrs. John Bright and Miss Ruby Marshall all of Hope attended church at the Blevins Church of Christ Sunday.

Mr. Boyce W. Mayfield and Mrs. Geo. W. Mayfield both of El Dorado are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wade and family.

Miss Velda Wardlaw of Texarkana spent the week end in Blevins visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wardlaw.

Rev. M. D. Williams of Gurdon filled his regular appointment at the Marlboro Presbyterian church Sunday.

Rev. C. C. Merritt preached at the Ball's Chapel Church of Christ Sunday.

Mrs. James Sullivan and children of Jakojones attended church at Blevins Sunday.

Miss Charlotte Stewart was Wednesday and Thursday guest of Miss Ruth Huskey.

Mrs. Marie Ward was the week end guest of Miss Wynona Gentry at McCaskill.

Mrs. John Vesey and Miss Flora Cotton were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wade Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Urrey motored to Smackover Sunday and attended the funeral of Mr. Urrey's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bell of Murfreesboro were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lilla Bell and Elmer Bell.

Mrs. Lorene Arnold and Miss Beulah Thomas were shopping in Hope Saturday.

Mrs. Jim Burk was visiting in Prescott Sunday.

Mrs. Carl Brown and Miss Thekla Bruce were shopping in Hope Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Glenn Coker motored to Hope Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Shiver of Hope was attending to business in Blevins Friday.

Mr. W. L. McDougall of the Sweet Home community was in Blevins Friday.

Mr. Harry Morton of near Prescott was attending to business in Blevins Tuesday of last week.

IN MIDDLE LIFE

Mrs. F. L. White of 711 Cherokee St., Muskogee, Okla. She says: "When passing through middle life I was so nervous, I had terrible headaches and back-aches, my hands and joints would swell, at night I was very restless and had no appetite. I could not enjoy food. But after I had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I feel like a new woman."

New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00.

"TRUE SERUM" 10% Protection

Hog menses: If you wish to do your own vaccinating use "True Serum," the only hog serum of its kind on the market today. No dilution. The U. S. Government caps and seals every bottle.

JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company

"The Rexall Store"

Lion Oil Markets New Type of Gas

Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox Is Arkansas Refining Product

The new Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox gasoline, product of the Lion Oil Refining Company of El Dorado, Ark., will be placed on sale at regular price here today, it was learned from Lion Company officials.

In announcing the introduction of Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox, Colonel T. H. Barton, president of the Lion Oil Refining company and Lion Oil Sales company, said:

"It has always been our policy to offer to the motorists of the south a truly premium quality gasoline at regular price. Lion has pioneered in the south in elevating the quality of regular price motor fuels since they entered the marketing field. Lion was the first major oil company to discard third grade gasoline and was also the first refiner and marketer in the southern field to offer a premium quality gasoline at regular price. Our new product, Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox, points out that the motoring public may continue to look to Lion for leadership in refining and marketing improvements. In planning Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox, we anticipated the needs of high compression motors and made the product to meet the demands placed upon gasoline today with energy and power to spare."

In discussing the new product, A. F. Reed, general manager of the Lion Oil Sales company, said:

"In Lion Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox, we are offering to the motorists of the south an extra-value gasoline. In addition to its quick starting and extra mileage features, Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox provides surplus energy and power. Made to meet the demands of the new high compression motors, Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox provides high compression power in a new or older model, start quickly on cold days and perform smoothly under all driving conditions. Since Golden Knix-Knox was introduced at regular price over two years ago, Lion sales have shown steady increase even during the time other gasoline sales were declining. With the improvement in business conditions over the south and our new improved Vitalized Golden Knix-Knox, we expect still greater gains in sales."

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne England have moved to their new residence, 621 North Elm.

Mrs. T. J. Reynolds had as her guests Wednesday Mrs. D. A. Sholler, Mrs. R. A. Dempsey, Mrs. R. B. Bates, Mrs. A. L. Willis and Miss Irma Drew Shofner, all of Texarkana.

Dr. J. L. Cannon of Prescott was a visitor to Hope Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne England have moved to their new residence, 621 North Elm.

Rocky Mount

We are sorry to report that Mrs. A. C. Monts has been confined to her bed for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Messer of New Hope spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pickard.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolen Lewallen were Saturday night guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie.

A large crowd enjoyed a musical at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hammett Wednesday night.

Misses Beryl and Norene Pickard are the guests of their sister Mrs. Clifford Messer of New Hope this week. Miss Mattie Lou Purdie was the Saturday night guest of Miss Helen Fincher.

Miss Frances Monts entertain with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Silvey for Mrs. Nolen Lewallen who is a recent bride. After many lovely gifts were presented to her refreshments were served to Mrs. Dale Hunt, Mrs. Walter Hariston, Mrs. H. S. Dudley, Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Mrs. J. H. Pickard, Mrs. Alfred Bearden, Mrs. D. H. Butler, Mrs. Elston Messer, Mrs. T. O. Silvey, Mrs. E. G. Steed, Mrs. B. M. Hazzard, Mrs. Luther Fay Pickard and Rev. E. C. Bright.

Mrs. Dale Hunt and mother spent Tuesday and Wednesday, Norene and Maudie with Mrs. R. F. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

A large number of the ladies of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steed Thursday and quilled two quilts for Mrs. E. G. Steed. A real nice plate lunch was served to those present.

Miss Susie Erwin who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock returned home Monday.

Mrs. Dale Hunt and mother spent Tuesday and Wednesday, Norene and Maudie with Mrs. R. F. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

A large number of the ladies of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steed Thursday and quilled two quilts for Mrs. E. G. Steed. A real nice plate lunch was served to those present.

Miss Susie Erwin who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock returned home Monday.

Mrs. Dale Hunt and mother spent Tuesday and Wednesday, Norene and Maudie with Mrs. R. F. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

A large number of the ladies of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steed Thursday and quilled two quilts for Mrs. E. G. Steed. A real nice plate lunch was served to those present.

Miss Susie Erwin who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock returned home Monday.

Mrs. Dale Hunt and mother spent Tuesday and Wednesday, Norene and Maudie with Mrs. R. F. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

A large number of the ladies of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steed Thursday and quilled two quilts for Mrs. E. G. Steed. A real nice plate lunch was served to those present.

Miss Susie Erwin who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock returned home Monday.

Mrs. Dale Hunt and mother spent Tuesday and Wednesday, Norene and Maudie with Mrs. R. F. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Purdie, Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

A large number of the ladies of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steed Thursday and quilled two quilts for Mrs. E. G. Steed. A real nice plate lunch was served to those present.

Miss Susie Erwin who spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock returned home Monday.

Daughter of Col. Roosevelt and Fiance

The only daughter of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Miss Grace Roosevelt, and her fiance, William McMillan of Baltimore, are shown together at a Baltimore supper club party for the first time since announcement of their engagement. Miss Roosevelt, eldest granddaughter of the late President Roosevelt, and McMillan, nephew of the late Senator James McMillan of Michigan, will be married March 3 at Oyster Bay, L. I., home of the Roosevelts.

noon. Mrs. J. R. Husky and son Harold called on Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Huskey Sunday afternoon.

Miss Esther Stephens of Blevins spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Campbell.

Mrs. Will Spears visited Mrs. W. L. McDougall Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell were Sunday visitors in the home of their son Mr. Will Campbell.

Mrs. Ruth Huskey has returned to Conway to resume her school work after being confined in the home of her parents for two weeks with measles.

A quilting in the home of Mrs. Hix Lee was enjoyed by several last week.

Washington

Rev. Harrell preached two splendid sermons at the local Methodist Sunday.

Miss Frances Eason spent the week end with home folks in Hope.

Will Gilbert was in Hope on business Monday.

Clyde Kolb of Texarkana was visiting relatives here Saturday he also visited his wife who is quite sick in Josephine hospital in Hope.

Gyp Martin went to Texarkana on business Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rowe are the proud parents of a son who arrived January 16.

W. H. Etter was a visitor to Hope Tuesday.

The Baptist W. M. S. met Monday in the home of Mrs. W. R. Pruitt. An interesting program on missions was carried out by the eleven present.

Mrs. K. G. Dudley and Mrs. Conway of Columbus visited Mrs. I. L. Pilkinton Tuesday evening.

Paul Dudley has returned home to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

G. O. Wisdom was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Women Live Longer Than Do Men!

Women have a better chance of living through to a ripe old age than have men!

Of course, the death rates among both men and women, in the last half century have decreased, so that their expectancy of life at birth has risen until now it is approximately 56.8 years for men and 60.4 years for women.

The reason for this encouraging progress is the significant change that has come about, during the last 50 years, in the diseases that afflict mankind and the causes of death.

Since 1850 the number of people over 50 years of age in proportion to the total population of the United States, has just about doubled.

What has effected such great change in the population has been practical disappearance of typhoid fever, malaria, and smallpox, as conditions affecting a considerable number of people.

There has not been much change in the mortality from scarlet fever and measles, but we have good reason to believe that the application of the newer knowledge that has developed, particularly in relation to scarlet fever, will result in real improvement during the next 20 years.

All over the world, it has been noticed that the number of deaths from tuberculosis has declined. At the same time, the tendency to deaths from heart disease has been upward and this particularly in people in the older age groups.

Deaths from cancer also have seemed to rise correspondingly.

Massachusetts has death records dating as far back as 1768. These show that the expectation of life at birth rose slowly in that state from 1780 or 1800, but since then the rise has been rapid.

But the present expectancy of life at birth is about the most that can be expected, unless new conditions arise which are not now apparent.

Indeed, the new conditions which may develop might result in effecting some of the gains that have been made, an example here being the increase in deaths from heart disease among persons of advanced years.

THE CASE OF

(Continued from Page One)

of the men who owed her the largest accounts. No one knows how many military secrets she extracted during those early years, nor how many reports she contrived to have smuggled across the border into Germany.

Finally, though, Sophie knew that the time had come to strike for the greatest prize of all—the detailed plans of a segment of the "iron ring" of forts and underground tunnels which were being built along the frontier. One evening she revealed her wish to Alphonse Choppo, one of the construction foremen on Block No. 1, at Coume.

The spy had made fairly certain that Choppo would not dare to expose her, but in addition she said to have promised him 20,000 francs for his services. Needing money, he agreed.

After watching his chance for some weeks, Choppo was charged with having stolen two blueprints from the headquarters of the engineers. These were delivered to Sophie, who in turn succeeded in sending them across the border.

French authorities, of course were perfectly well aware that their vital military secrets were gradually becoming international property, and their counter-espionage service is said to have been augmented by some 300 operatives. Foreign agents were being discovered in factories, on railroads, and actually working in the closely guarded tunnels and steel-and-concrete forts of the "iron ring" of defense. All of these people could, and probably did, give damaging bits of information to their employers. But especially alarming was the fact that a fairly complete set of plans of the forts had fallen into the hands of spies.

These plans would show the exact location of underground munitions storehouses, of gas-proof rooms, of machine-gun nests and emplacements for heavy artillery. So secret agents filtered into Coume and St. Avoird, and soon picked up a trail that seemed to lead to the Cafes des Sports and its jovial proprietress. If Sophie knew she was being watched, she gave no sign of fear. Instead she began to plan another coup.

Theft From the Barracks

Just as the master strategists of France had planned new and almost impregnable fortifications so had the armaments experts devised more efficient equipment. Taught bitter lessons by the World war, they were especially interested in rapid-fire guns with power enough to be effective against airplanes and tanks. One of their new machine guns, of a type worked out by trusted engineers and constructed and tested with secrecy, was called "No. 24." Some of these guns, Sophie-the-Spy knew had been sent to the garrison at Coume. She determined to get one.

She knew at once the soldier most likely to fall in with her scheme. He was a youngster named, it is said, Rene Pleastan. Over many glasses of liquor in a corner of the Cafe des Sports, he finally agreed to her wishes.

One evening the soldier confided to his barracks mates that he was going A. W. O. L. that evening. It was a matter of a girl whom he'd promised to see. The other soldiers leered and agreed that Rene surely was a devil with the women.

That night they saw him steal out of the barracks. But they didn't see him slip into the supply room and take one of the new machine guns. Outside he eluded the guard and dashed for the fence that surrounds the soldiers' quarters. Over it he scrambled, with difficulty, still carrying No. 24. A short distance away he found Sophie. She waited while he changed into civilian clothes. Then they dismantled the gun, hiding its parts in the interior of an automobile.

Guides NRA Codes For Newspapers

Appointed by NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson to be Deputy Administrator in charge of newspaper codes is Ralph Pulitzer (above) of New York. He is the brother of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Fugitives Captured
They started for the frontier. Sophie well knew that she would excite suspicion by selling her cafe, so she had left it just as it was. Anyone was welcome to it and its stock, for a great deal of money awaited her across the border. It was high time for her to clear out, too, for she was aware that French operatives were becoming curious about her.

Sophie didn't guess, though just how curious the counter-espionage agents were. For they had been watching her every move. They saw her leave the cafe, meet the young soldier and enter the automobile. They were almost close enough to hear her sigh with relief at the apparent success of her scheme. They followed her car to Sarzebruck, just across the line in the mandated territory, and saw her and the soldier enter a certain house.

Next day they arrested Sophie and Pleastan. Jupp, Sophie's husband, was living in the house too. The agents also found the machine gun. Then they went back and arrested Choppo. He and the soldier confessed, and Sophie Drost went to prison. The first woman spy captured since the war, she soon was being spoken of all over France as a second Mata Hari.

Following her arrest last October investigations have been conducted to learn of some of her other activities. And apparently she gained much additional information, because a student report recently issued by the police said that these inquiries have proven "very fruitful." Whatever the disposition of her case, she has no fear of facing Mata Hari's fate, for France does not execute spies captured in time of "peace."

Help Kidneys

● If poorly functioning kidneys and bladder make you suffer from Getting Up Night, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Stiffness, Burning, Smarting, Itching, or Acidity try the guaranteed Doctor's Prescription (Gystex) (Blue box). —Must fix you up or money back. Only 10¢ at drugstore.

Family Washing

Fully Finished 10c Per Pound

NELSON Huckins

FINAL CLEAN-UP

Ladies Shoes

Women's High-Grade Footwear

250 pairs of women's high grade footwear selected from our shoe department especially for this sale. This includes seasonable styles—all materials, all colors, all patterns, all heels. Don't wait longer!

Buy several pairs NOW!

FRIDAY and SATURDAY ONLY

Ladies Specialty Shop

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

1.95

250 pairs of women's high grade footwear selected from our shoe department especially for this sale. This includes seasonable styles—all materials, all colors, all patterns, all heels. Don't wait longer!

Buy several pairs NOW!

FRIDAY and SATURDAY ONLY

Chinese Leader

HORIZONTAL

- Who is the Chinese leader in the picture?
- Large crucifixes.
- Over.
- Fast.
- Otherwise.
- Genus of palms.
- A speck.
- To emulate.
- Explosive shell.
- To harden.
- Upon.
- You and I.
- Team (tab).
- Southeast.
- Fastened.
- Bronze.
- To combine.
- Tempest.
- By.
- Snaky fish.
- Pronoun.
- Sun god.
- Railroad.
- Form of "a."
- The eye.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

ISADORA DUNCAN

VERTICAL

- 11 Flying toys.
- 12 Uprising.
- 13 Decided.
- 14 Measure of area.
- 15 Paid publicity.
- 16 His military title is —.
- 17 Rubber pencil ends.
- 18 Aqua.
- 19 Rhythm.
- 20 To tear stitches.
- 21 Sun.
- 22 Rubbish.
- 23 Coal box.
- 24 Structural unit.
- 25 Street car.
- 26 Balsam.
- 27 Squable.
- 28 Second note.
- 29 Female sheep.
- 30 Varnish ingredient.
- 31 Intention.
- 32 Italian river.
- 33 Postscript.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Telltale Evidence!

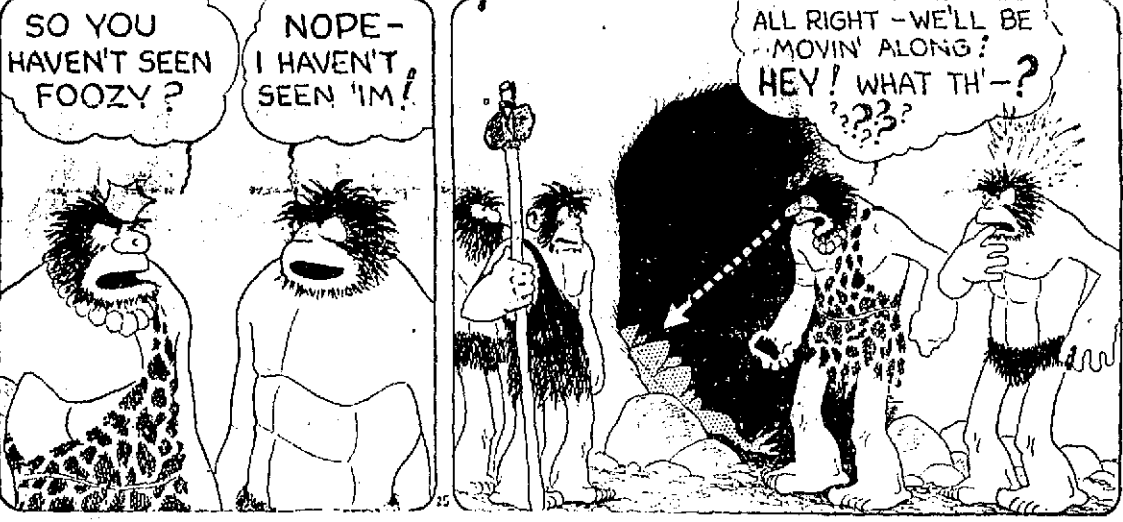

By MARTIN

ALLEY OOP

Everyday Agrees!

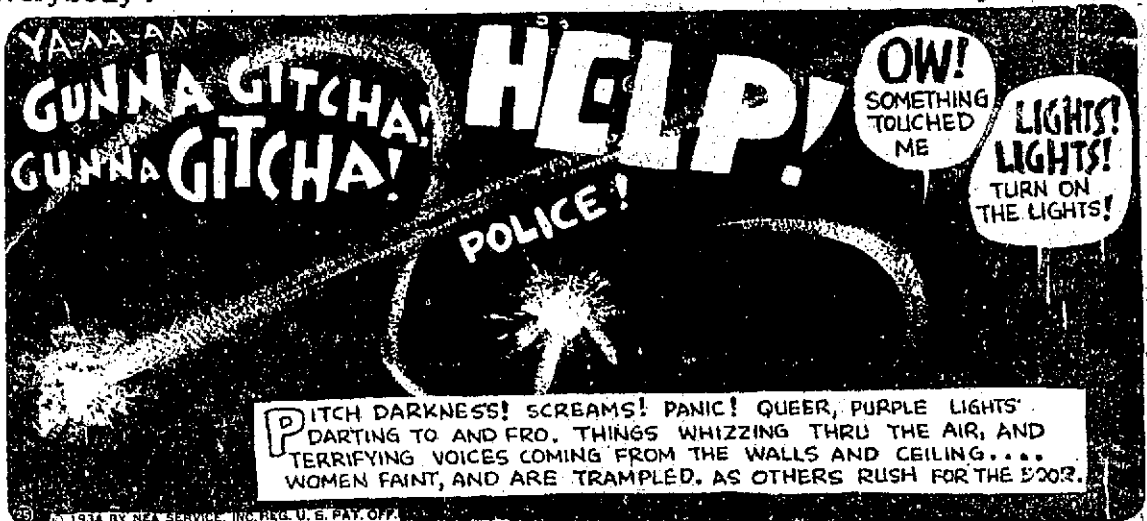

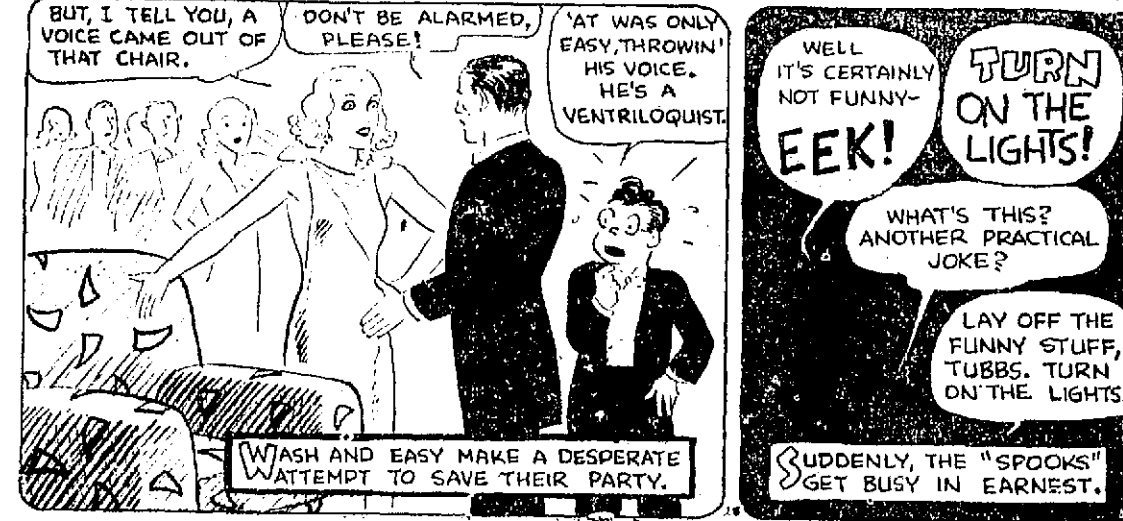

By HAMLIN

WASH TUBBS

A Nice Time for Everybody!

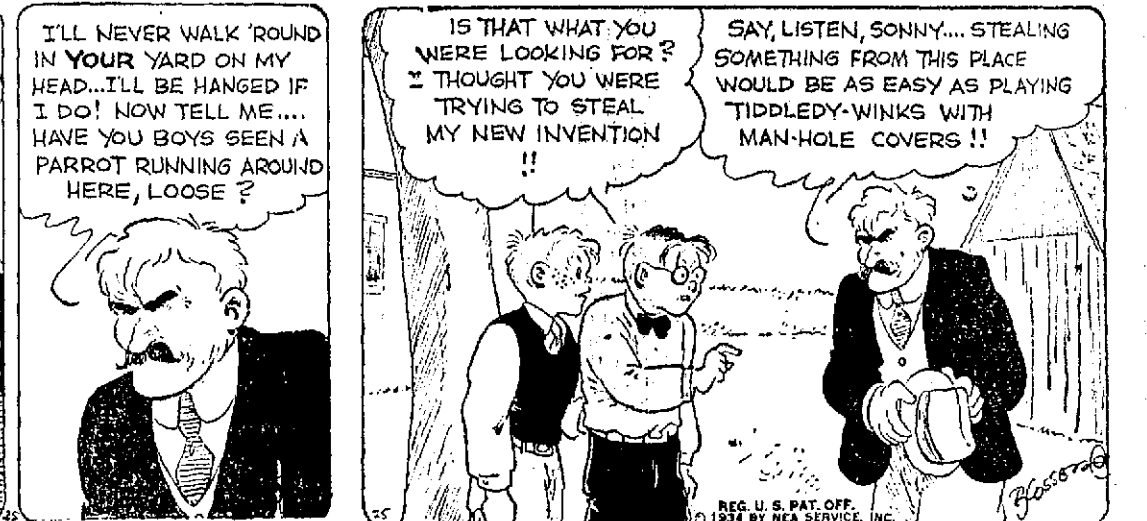

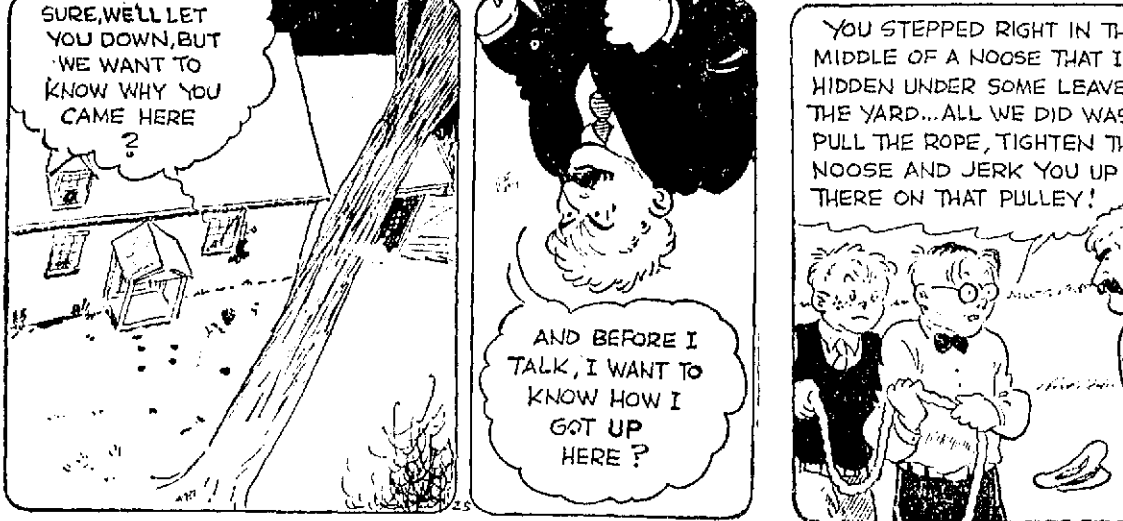

By CRANE

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Protectoin Plus!

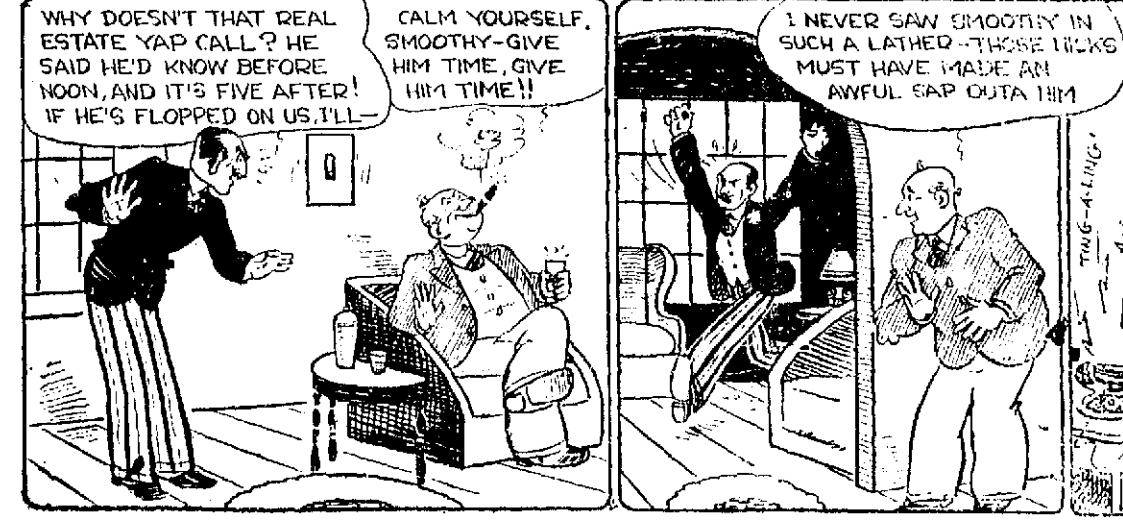

By BLOSSER

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

The Trap Is Bought

By COWAN

Hog Tax $1.50 in Month February

Processing Levy Due on All Hogs Killed for Market Purposes

LITTLE ROCK.—The following information is given for the guidance of processors of hogs:

On and after November 5, 1933, there is a tax on all hogs killed for market purposes. The tax is due by the person or agency that kills and is based on live weight. Return to be made and tax paid at the end of each month on Form P 14.

The rate per hundred pounds live weight, for November, 50c; December and January, $1.00.

For February $1.50; and for March $2.25 per hundred pounds live weight.

The tax is due at the rate in effect on date of slaughter. Hogs killed for home consumption by the person slaughtering are exempt from tax, if no portion of the slaughter is for market.

If any portion of the carcass is for market, the whole kill should be reported and exemption claimed upon Producer's Form PT29, at the time of filing PT Form 4, for the amount used or retained for household consumption.

The law in no way restricts the sale or barter of live hogs. Tax is due only when killed for market.

If the producer has dressed weight (whole carcass instead of live weight), he can ascertain live weight upon the following basis:

Article	Dressed Wt.	Live Wt.
Carcass Fresh:
Head and leaf included	100 lbs. equals	132 lbs.
Head removed, leaf included	100 lbs. equals	134 lbs.
Head removed, leaf removed	100 lbs. equals	138 lbs.
Head and leaf removed	100 lbs. equals	139 lbs.

If article or portion is not covered above, information will be supplied by the office of Homer M. Adkins, Collector of Internal Revenue, Little Rock. In many instances, County Agricultural Agents are assisting producers with detailed information.

An accurate record must be kept of all hogs processed for market and tax paid upon all hogs except that portion that is covered by Producer's Affidavits, PT Forms 29.

Forms will be furnished by Homer M. Adkins, Collector of Internal Revenue, Little Rock, Ark., upon request, for the monthly report and also for Producer's Affidavits PT Form 29.

Market Place

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c
For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad.

3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times 5c line, min. 90c
26 times, 3 1/2c line, min. $2.70
(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads may be charged with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Reliable men age 25 to 50 to supply established demand for Rawleigh Products in South Pike, South Clark counties and Hope. Other good localities available. Company furnishes everything but the car. Good profits for hustlers. Write Rawleigh Co., Dept. AK-151-OD, Memphis, Tenn., or see Jim. R. Cash, Ozark, Ark., 18, 25, 1p.

WANTED

WANTED TO BUY:—One violin. W. H. Burke, Hope, Arkansas, Route Five. 23-3t-p

FOR RENT

Model six room brick house, newly furnished. Garage. J. A. Sullivan. 25, 4p

Six room house with garage in Brookwood addition. Furnished. Mrs. J. E. Schooley. Phone 1639 ring 4. 19, 6c Sash! Doors! Hope Bldg. Material Co.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Sandy. Mixed and Blackland plows. Bargain prices. South Arkansas Implement Co. TTS-c

FOR SALE OR TRADE—11 head meat hogs. What have you? L. C. Somerville. Phone 815-J. 24-3p

Woolpaper! Hope Bldg. Material Co.

Tokio

Earl Martindale of Bingen was a Tokio visitor Saturday.

J. M. Jackson of Doyle was a business visitor to Tokio Friday.

Wash Hutson of Hope was a Tokio visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hatch of Fulton spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitmoris and little son of Evanson spent the last week-end with relatives here.

Vernon McLaughlin was a business to Nashville Thursday.

Better After Taking First Bottle of Cardui

"I was in need of something to build me up, as I was in a run-down condition and suffering with my back and sides," writes Mrs. M. M. Cook, of Fort Payne, Ala. "The pain in my side seemed to cause a soreness all through my body. I was reading the newspaper and saw Cardui advertised. I thought it might help me. After my first bottle, I felt better and I took another, after which I was greatly improved, so much so that I have recommended Cardui since."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks queer, swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "rarin' to go" and up. They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the picture of a Little Liver Pill on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c a bottle. Everywhere. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Peach Brandy Bill Passed by Senate

Natural Gas Tax Measure Next on Senate's Calendar

LITTLE ROCK.—The senate, at a quiet session Tuesday afternoon following a three-day recess, passed three house bills, defeated one, deferred action on another, placed a new senate bill, to tax natural gas, on the calendar subject to call for passage.

The house bill by "Brandy Jack" Owen of Howard county to authorize manufacture of fruit brandy for sale outside the state, was passed, 18 to 12, after Senators Mitchell, Atkins and Bailey had led an unsuccessful fight against it.

The penitentiary loan bill, transferring approximately $25,000 from various other state funds to the penitentiary fund to finance the 1934 crop, was passed, 29 to 2, after Senators Milum, Mitchell and Norrell succeeded in having the bill amended by striking out a transfer of $15,000 from the land sales fund, which ordinarily goes into the permanent school fund.

The third $12,000 appropriation bill for expenses of the special session was amended to authorize the treasurer to transfer $40,000 from the motor vehicle carrier tax fund and the DeWalls Bluff toll bridge fund to the legislative fund.

Only $36,000 has been appropriated for expenses of the present special session, but Senator Johnson, author of the transfer amendment, explained that the funds from which the transfer will be made are not tied up by the federal court injunction and that the additional $4,000 may be left in the legislative fund as a nest egg for the regular session next year.

Alibi Thrown Out in Brinker Trial

Marie Kenzy Document Not Properly Certified, Court Holds

TEXARKANA.—The Marie Kenzy "alibi" deposition was thrown out in the Ed Brinker murder trial at Boston Tuesday, and questioning of former Ranger Buck Weaver as to alleged bribery brought forth a verbal row among attorneys which required emphatic intercession by Judge Hicks Harvey.

The Kenzy deposition, made in Kentucky, was held improperly certified under provisions of Texas law. The defense took exceptions when Judge Harvey subsequently overruled a motion for continuance of the trial pending either the personal appearance of the woman, or proper certification of her deposition.

During renewed cross examination of Weaver by the state, punctuated by frequent "I don't remember's" or "I don't recall's" from the former officer, following exchange ensued:

"Have you been offered any money, or paid any money, for your testimony?" asked District Attorney E. L. Lincoln.

"No, sir, I have not," responded Weaver.

"When you were in jail in Houston, wasn't a note sent to you offering you $500 for your testimony in this case?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't you send the note back and reply that you would take $100 for your testimony?"

"I did not."

"Didn't you come to Boston last week with H. O. Ramsey and Fred Townsend, and tell them you had been offered $500 for your testimony?"

"I did not."

Yerger to Present College Program

Negro High School to Hold Annual Event Friday Night

Yerger High School will present its annual "Go to College Night" Friday at the auditorium of the school. The program begins promptly at 7:45 and promises to be better than ever.

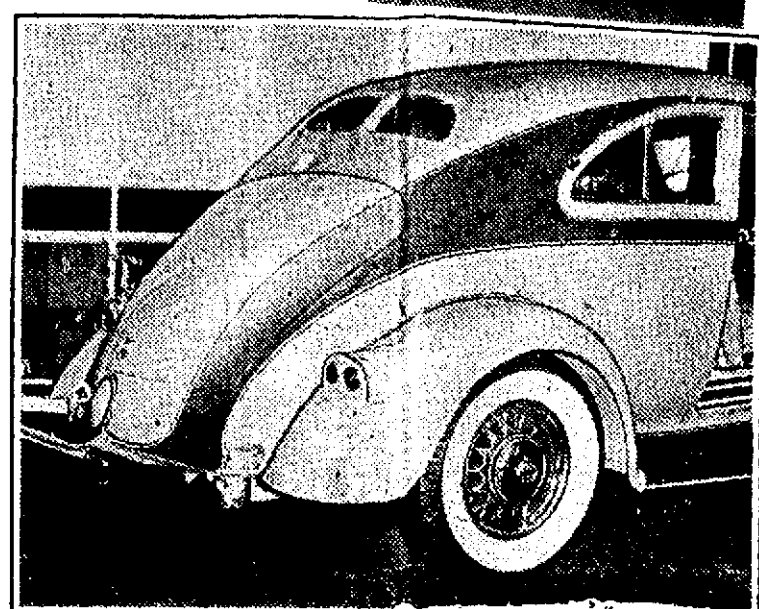

Prof. H. J. Mason, vice president of Wiley college, Marshall, will be the principal speaker on the subject, "The Advantage of Going to College." Professor Mason is one of the outstanding speakers of his race. The program follows:

1. Processional by the classes.
2. Negro National Anthem—Audience.
3. Prayer—Rev. Earl Dyer, A. B. Pastor C. M. E. Church, Hope.
4. Instrumental solo—Nannie Lee Figgie.
5. Quartet—Jolly Four.
6. "Why We Celebrate Go to Col-

New Cars That 'Get' You, Coming and Going

Some of the new automobiles you'll see on the streets this year will have such streamlined shapes, you won't know whether they're coming or going. Look at the rear ends of the three cars shown here, for instance. They're designed not only for sheer beauty, but for the reduction of wind resistance, say the engineers. At top left, you see the new Packard sports roadster, and at right, the Chrysler, both from the rear. To the right, below, is the 1934 Pierce-Arrow. And, take our word for it, it's the rear you see, although the car looks very much as though it were coming toward you. By these examples, you ought to be able to tell the automobiles of 1934 by their rear ends, instead of their radiators.

lege Night"—Mary Alice Tippitt.

7. Vocal solo—Minnie Pearl Sanders.

8. Drama, "Why Go to College"—Frank Winfred Watkins and others.

9. Quartet—Jolly Four.

10. Freshman's Life of College Life—Queen Esther Nelson.

11. Vocal solo—Edward Smith.

12. Introduction of the Speaker—W. L. McMillan.

13. Address, "Why Go to College," Prof. H. J. Mason, vice president Wiley college, Marshall, Texas.

14. Vocal solo—Ellis Brown.

15. Remarks—Principal H. C. Yerger.

16. Quartet—Jolly Four.

Belgium is the most densely populated country in Europe, having 686 inhabitants to the square mile.

Italian colonial authorities have granted prospector licenses to 33 operators near Asmara, Eritrea, East African town where gold veins have been discovered.

Cotton flags are being used in Mississippi to furnish another use for cotton.

LET'S SWAP!

For every pound of heavy breed live poultry I will swap one baby chick. Call out those old hens now!

OAKCREST HATCHERY
111 North Walnut Street

Lucky Strike the fully packed cigarette

— no loose ends

Always the finest tobaccos and only the center leaves are purchased for Lucky Strike cigarettes. We don't buy top leaves—because those are under-developed. And not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. The center leaves—for which farmers are paid higher prices—are the mildest leaves. And only center leaves are used in making Luckies—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why every Lucky draws easily, burns evenly—and is always mild and smooth. Then, too—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company

Saturday at 1:55 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC, LUCKY STRIKE will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Aida."

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality

Always the Finest Tobacco and only the Center Leaves

The Cream of the Crop

Are you as expert as SHE?

THINK for a minute—what if you had the house to run, meals to plan and children to care for? Do you think you could do the job as well at your wife does? On the same amount of money? Be honest.

The housewives of the nation study and know their jobs. They read the advertisements regularly. They keep themselves informed of the best offerings of the stores. They are expert purchasing agents.

These purchasing agents, from necessity or individual desire, aim to make every dollar spent return a full one hundred cents' worth in value. They know their needs. They know through the advertisements just where these needs can be best supplied at the least cost. Such intelligent buying saves time and effort and money. It results in a management of the home that is truly efficient.

Here's some good advice for all of us. Read the advertisements. Read them every day. Through them we can know exactly what we want before we go to buy. This is the surest way of securing full value for every dollar you spend.

